

Dad's Ceremony

This morning (or afternoon, evening) you have been given many lessons to learn, but one of the most important is the love and respect Rainbow Girls have for their parents. As teenagers, Rainbow takes us on a journey and teaches us lessons that will help us reach the mythical Pot of Gold at the end of the Rainbow.

For your parents, you are the Pot of Gold at the end of their Rainbow. We know parents seem to always want to tell us what to do and how to do it, but remember that Rainbow can be your chance to show them what you can do.

Just a few minutes ago, we talked about our love and devotion for our mothers whose prayers and sacrifices made this day possible. We would now like to talk about our dads.

As Rainbow Girls, we would like you to be proud of your dad or whoever has taken his place. He may not know much about Rainbow, but it will be special to him if it is special to you. Dads want the best for their daughters. Rainbow will help you and, because it does, it will be important to your dad.

We would like you to give this special Rainbow pin to your dad. Help him pin it on his jacket and ask him to come with you to a meeting to share your journey through Rainbow.

Parents are not given to us forever. They are only loaned to us by God for a certain amount of time. Take some time each day to share part of your life with them.

Congratulations on becoming a Rainbow Girl.
